Rating-Agentur Expert RA GmbH confirmed the credit rating of the Chuvash Republic according to the international scale at 'BB' (Sufficient level of creditworthiness) in foreign currency and assigned 'BB' (Sufficient level of creditworthiness) credit rating according to the international scale in local currency. The rating outlook is stable for both ratings which means that in the mid-term perspective the likelihood of the credit rating stability is high.

MAJOR FACTORS THAT INFLUENCED RATING:

Positive factors:

- Improving fiscal performance of the region with the consolidated budget surplus equal to 3,4% of total revenues or 5,2% of own budget revenues in 2016. This shows a significant improvement when compared to a deficit of 6,6% and 9,9% respectively a year ago. The Agency expects this tendency to continue in 2017 following the positive fiscal performance in 1H 2017, which resulted in a surplus of 8,5% of total revenues and 12,8% of own budget revenues;
- Moderately low share of debt servicing expenditures at 0,7% of total expenditures of the consolidated budget against a 1,5% average for all Russian regions in 1H 2017;
- Structure of the region's debt, fully formed by local currency, with a high share of long-term loans from the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation which can be rolled over or restructured with high probability;
- High quality of the regional budget management according to the national definition. The Chuvash Republic was described as a region with "high quality of budget management" by the 2016 results according to the assessment by the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation;
- Balanced structure of tax revenues with the largest type representing 38% of consolidated tax revenues in 1H 2017. Furthermore, the share of ten largest taxpayers in total amount of collected taxes equaled to 25% in 2016;
- Favorable structure of budget expenditures, with CAPEX at 13% of consolidated budget expenditures, slightly above the national average of 12,6% by the end 2016. Despite the share of these expenses remaining low along 1H 2017, the Agency expects the share of CAPEX to be still elevated as compared to the national average by the end of the current year. This creates additional space for the regional government to cut expenditures in case of a drop in revenues and, therefore, partly offset the risks of debt increase.

Restricting factors:

- Elevated dependence on funds from the higher budget tier. This was evidenced by the share of transfers from the Federal Government budget in total consolidated revenues of the region, which stood at 34,1% during 1H 2017, well above the 15% average for all Russian regions;
- Moderately low level of nominal wages and personal income combined with the elevated share of social payments (mostly pensions) that stood at 24,6% as compared to the 18,3% country's average in 2015;

- Negative dynamics of the region's dependency ratio, which jumped from 59,9% in 2009 to 76,6% in 2016, which creates the pressure on the budget in the long run.

Negative factors:

- Moderately low level of economic development as evidenced by the gross regional product (GRP) per capita at RUB 202 th in 2015 (equal to 45% of the country average level), coupled with high volatility of key macroeconomic indicators over the last years;
- Low level of investment per capita at RUB 40,1 th (40% of the country's average) in 2016, combined with negative dynamics of investments in fixed capital between 2012 and 2016;
- Despite having shown a positive dynamics during 2017, the debt load of the region remains elevated, with the ratio of consolidated debt to regional own revenues at 35,6% by end of September 2017, above the Russian regions average of 30,9%.

SENSITIVITY ASSESSMENT:

The following developments could lead to an upgrade:

- Further consolidation of the fiscal balance combined with a continued decrease of debt to total regional revenues and regional own revenues ratios;
- Gradual improvement of key macroeconomic indicators coupled with the reduction of volatility of the regional economy.

The following development could lead to a downgrade:

- Reverse trend in current fiscal consolidation process which would result in constantly widening fiscal deficits and government debt increases;
- Strong adverse changes in the structure of the regional debt by creditors with increasing share of short-term bank loans or bonds.

“The credit rating confirmation of the Chuvash Republic at ‘BB’ in foreign currency and the assignment of ‘BB’ in local currency were driven by the stable performance of the key rating drivers. The ratings remain positively supported by the fiscal performance in 2016 and in 1H 2017, the current structure of government liabilities (with a high share of budget loans), as well as by the low share of debt servicing expenditures and the high level of tax revenues diversification.

However, the ratings remain restricted by moderately high share of transfers in the budget revenues as well as elevated debt load despite the positive dynamics during 2017.” – Clarified Vladimir Gorchakov, Rating Associate of Rating-Agentur Expert RA GmbH.
